Question	How the test of sub-clause 21.101 of EN 60335-2-80 shall be performed?
Decision	The standard does not require to use the test finger for the pull and push test, but it is agreed that the intention of this test is to check the mechanical resistance of the grid wires and not to check the introduction of the finger through the grid gap, that are covered by the test of 20.2.
